

POETRY.
EDUCATION.—By John B. Satterfield.
A child is born—now take the germ, and make it
A bud or moral beauty. Let the dew
Of knowledge, and light of virtue, wake it
In richest fragrance, and in purest hues; [i]
When passion's gust, and sorrow's tempest shake it
The shelter of affection's love refuse;
For soon the gathering hand of death will break it
From its weak stem of life—and it shall lose
All power to charm; but if that lovely flower
Hath swelled one pleasure, or subdued one pain,
O, who shall say that it has lived in vain,
However fugitive its breathing hour?
For virtue leaves its sweets wherever tasted,
And scattered truth is never wasted.

FROM THE "REBEL," BY E. D. SULLIVAN.
Oh! in our sterner manhood, when no ray
Of earlier sunshine glimmers on our way;
When grief with sins and sorrows, and the toil
Of cares that tear the bosom that they soil;
Oh! let there be in retrospection's chain,
One link that knits us with our dreams again,
One thought that sweetly we scarcely dare to muse
On all the hoarded raptures it reviews;
Which seems an instant in its backward range,
The heart to soften, and its ties to change;
And every spring, untouched by time to move,
Is—the memory of a Mother's love.

THE BRIBE—COL. KREBS.
It seems that Col. Krebs was offered $4000 by one individual, if he would vote for the bill to recharter the United States Bank; and after the bill was brought from the House of Representatives to the Senate, the Col. was told that if he voted for it, he should be made independent, and that arrangements should be made by which he would obtain TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS for his vote, within two weeks after the bill should become a law.
"I told the individual," says this incorruptible patriot, "that, poor as I am, the Bank of the United States has not sufficient money to purchase me!"
It is stated in the Philadelphia Sentinel, that "Col. Krebs is one of the oldest members of the Senate, and is a man of irreproachable character. It is true, that like many of the members from the German counties, who do not speak the English language fluently, Col. Krebs rarely addresses the Senate at much length; but whenever it becomes necessary to explain any matter in which his constituents are interested, he does so, modestly and clearly. He has been repeatedly elected to a seat in the Legislature of the State, and once to Congress; and has for many years retained, as he justly deserves, the entire confidence of his constituents."
A correspondent of the Democratic Herald says Col. Krebs is a man of character, unblemished, and veracity above suspicion. He has named the parties to the corruption; and this fact must stamp all connected with the Bank with everlasting opprobrium. The Bank men are trying to laugh it away; but that trick is too stale. Other imputations are current here. A person has been offered by the Bank Agents $30,000 for a lot in Beaver, not worth $100!!! Never was bribery so open and barefaced!

SLEEP WALKING.—A singular instance of somnambulism occurred at White, England, not long ago. A servant to Mr. Kirby, who resides in the outskirts of the town, arose from her bed about two o'clock in the morning under the impression that her sister had called to tell her that their brother, a sailor, had arrived, and she was to go to her father's to see him. Having dressed herself she unlocked the doors, and wending her way through the streets, crossed the bridge, and went up a yard in Church street, to her father's house. She called up her friends, and when let into the house, seated herself on a chair. But who can describe the feelings of her relatives on perceiving, as soon as a light was procured, that she was all the while fast asleep? Her dress is said to have been imperfect and grotesquely arranged, and her countenance very appalling. The distance from Mr. Kirby's to her father's house may be about a quarter of a mile.

MELANCHOLY.—Mr. John B. Satterfield, a young farmer of this county, met with a melancholy accident on Saturday evening last, which terminated his existence. He started from his residence to visit a neighbor, and while on the way, his horse stumbled and fell, and he fell under him, by which he was so much injured that he died on the following morning. Gazette.

KEENE, N. H. JAN. 21.
Grand Sleigh Ride.—On Friday last, about seventy-two sleighs, several of them double, well filled with both sexes, belonging to this town, rode through Westmoreland to White, partook of a handsome dinner at Huntington's, and returned in the evening. The number that set down to dinner must have been between 150 and 160.

Edward Everett was graduated and received his bachelor's degree at Cambridge College at 17 years of age, was appointed tutor in that University at 18, chosen professor of Greek at 21 years; he then travelled in Europe five, till his 26th year; at 30 he was elected member of Congress, and continued in office ten years; the present year, being 41 years old, he was elected Governor of Massachusetts.

Pendleton, S. C. Feb. 9.—We are again required to perform the melancholy duty of recording the death of one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens. Gen. John B. Earle, Adjutant General of the State of South Carolina, died at his residence in this District, on Wednesday last, at 3 o'clock, P. M. after a severe illness of several days continuance.

Gen. Earle was born, we believe, in N. Carolina, and at his death was in the 70th year of his age.

The legislature of Louisiana now in session has lately appropriated Eighty Thousand Dollars, to aid the citizens of Florida in their struggles against the savage foe within the confines of their Territory.

GOLD MINES OF THE UNITED STATES.
We extract from Dr. Patterson's report on the annual operations of the Mint, the following statement of the amount of native gold received at the Mint since the first working of the mines in 1824:

1824	$5,000
1825	47,000
1826	20,000
1827	21,000
1828	40,000
1829	740,000
1830	466,000
1831	520,000
1832	678,000
1833	686,000
1834	698,000
1835	698,000
Total	$4,377,000

The decline in the last year is attributed, not to any failure in the mines but in the abstraction of laborers, who were called to other pursuits by the high price of Southern products. About one third only of the gold dug out of the mines goes to the mint, the expense of getting it, and getting it coined being about 4 percent, and most of it is used by manufacturers or exported. The value and produce of these mines cannot be fully developed until the branch mints in North Carolina and Georgia are in operation, which will be the first of January, 1837.

Of the $4,377,000 worth of native gold carried to the Mint at Philadelphia, the different States have produced as follows:

Virginia	$312,900
North Carolina	2,317,500
South Carolina	242,900
Georgia	1,478,900
Tennessee	12,100
Alabama	1,000
Not ascertained	12,200
Total	$4,377,400

Of the gold deposited at the mint to be coined during the year 1835, the following quantities were derived from different countries:

In native gold bullion	$698,000
American coins of former standard	160,000
From Europe	175,000
From Mexico and South America	165,000
From Africa	57,000
From Arabia	14,000
Jewellers base gold	14,600
Total	$1,815,000

The small quantity received from Mexico and South America, must strike the attention of every reader. It is less than the one-fourth part of what came from Europe! The reason is, that the Mexican and South American gold is chiefly imported into New Orleans, and as it cannot be carried from that city to Philadelphia, it is consumed at less than a dead loss of three or four percent, to the merchant, in the force re-exported and goes to countries where it is current at full value, without being re-coined, or subject to be weighed before it can pass. The single fact shows the necessity and value of the Branch Mint at New Orleans, where the Mexican and South American gold can be coined without loss to the merchant.

The three branch mints are expected to go into operation by the 1st of January, 1837. The one at N. Orleans, under the energetic superintendence of Mr. Gordon, has made great progress, and instead of 4,000,000, as continued to be reported after the typographical error in the figures was detected, will cost $142,000.

The going into operation of the three branch mints will be an era in the currency of the Federal Government, and with the aid of timely preliminary measures to insure ample supplies of bullion for coinage, will make good the national currency of the Union.

These preliminary measures are, 1st, to repeal the 1-2 cent. now charged at the mint for coinage; 2d, to transfer portions of public revenue temporarily from the Deposit Banks to the mints to purchase bullion and foreign coins; 3d, to drop all notes under $20 from all payments to and from the Federal Government and the General Post Office; 4th, to drop all Deposit Banks which will not put the circulation of notes under $20.

GEN. CLINCH, who commanded at the battle of Whitelocock in Florida, is a native of Edgecombe county in this State. A volunteer who was in that battle, pays the following just tribute to the General's bravery:

"You will see from Gen. Clinch's official letter, giving an account of the battle, that he says of himself, 'I was in this battle, and I do not know to say to you respecting him, what I saw and know to be true. Throughout the engagement he was in the hottest of the fight. His horse was shot under him in two places, neck and hip. A ball passed through his cap, entering the front and passing out at the back part of the top. Another ball passed through the sleeve of the bridge arm of his coat. This was my first battle, and I may not be the best judge, but I do not believe that any man ever displayed more intrepid courage than Gen. Clinch on this occasion. At one moment a little confusion occurred among the troops in consequence of some soldiers giving the word 'Retire.' The Gen. immediately threw himself in front of the men, and his horse staggering under him, he dismounted, advanced to the front, and, amidst a shower of bullets, from the Indians, said that he would show his back to the enemy, and would die upon the field. The high and chivalric bearing of the General kindled among the men an enthusiasm which I believe was never surpassed. A gallant charge followed, which routed and drove the enemy from the field, and they did not again show themselves. We kept the field about three hours, and then re-crossed the river in good order, and without disturbance."

Whiteism on the wane.—We learn from the last Memphis Gazette, that the friends of Judge White, have been trying their hand at getting up another meeting at Lagrange Fayette county, but the friends of the administration being apprized of their intention, attended and out numbered them by a large majority. The result, of course, was a luckless commentary upon the waning popularity of Judge White.

He has just received from the North a fine assortment of Jewelry and Watches, consisting of Gold and Silver Watches; plain English and French Watches; Gold Chains, Keys, Breast Pins, Ear-Rings and Finger-Rings, together with a variety of other Articles too tedious to mention; which he now invites all to call and examine for themselves.
